1 Warrant Arrest

SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

Dayshift was quiet this morning but got busier as the day progressed. Officers handled numerous calls involving homeless and mental health issues. One call in particular, was an indecent exposure incident where a male urinated on the Nike shoe boxes in the shoe aisle of Kohls. He was not located yet. Officers also handled a few traffic collisions throughout the day. The THS homecoming parade was downtown this afternoon causing lots of traffic congestion. The only arrest today was domestic violence related. A male was wanted for a previous incident two days ago and returned to the house today causing a disturbance. He was arrested and booked.

SHIFT: SWING SHIFT

Sgt. Fortado

NUMBER OF REPORTS: 4

CATEGORIES

1 Dog Bite

2 Warrant Arrest

1 Resisting Arrest

SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

Today is our first day of our workweek for our team. Calls for service were manageable to start the shift. As the shift continued calls for service increased. Officers did a great job helping each other out tonight on this busy Halloween night. During our shift we had around five missing children who had all wondered off while engaged in Halloween activities. All the children were located and Officers did a great job extra patrolling heavy populated foot traffic areas around town.

SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

This is the first day of our new work week. It happened to fall on a Friday, plus it was Halloween. The officers were very busy throughout the night, with several arrests being made for various crimes. One of those being a felony identity theft crime, with a female being arrested for possessing a large amount to washed checks not belonging to her. Officers also responded to traffic collisions, all of which did not include major injuries. After the trick or treat festivities calmed down throughout the city, officers focused on the downtown areas and bars. While it was packed, no significant issues arose.
